

2011 PRINTZ WINNER

Ship Breaker
by Paolo Bacigalupi

In Ship Breaker, near a drowned New Orleans ravaged by hurricanes and global warming, Nailer and his young crew eke out a meager existence by scavenging materials on the ship-littered coast.

2011 PRINTZ HONOR BOOKS

Revolver
by Marcus Sedgwick

In Sedgwick's grim, chilling story set in the Arctic Circle, Sig finds his father's frozen corpse as human predator Wolff arrives seeking retribution and a hidden Gold Rush treasure.

Stolen
by Lucy Christopher,

The rugged Australian outback becomes Gemma's prison after she is drugged and abducted by a handsome, obsessed stranger in a first novel filled with searing imagery and archetypal characters.

Vera Dietz
by A.S. King

Vera Dietz wants to be ignored, but the ghost of her ex-best friend won't leave her alone in this dark comedy that examines relationships, identity, grief and flowcharts.

Nothing
by Janne Teller

Pierre Anthon's nihilism causes his classmates to begin a search for life's meaning in this bold, unsettling parable translated from Danish.